

Another Look at the House Republican “No Jobs” Calendar

Democrats Remain Focused on Make It In America Plan While Republicans Have Yet to Put Forward a Comprehensive Jobs Agenda

After more than 200 days in the majority, House Republicans have taken little action on jobs and have still not put forward a comprehensive jobs agenda. Meanwhile, Democrats have been focused on our Make It In America plan – a plan to support job creation by providing an environment for businesses to innovate and make products here in the U.S., which will help more families Make It In America. The Make It In America plan is an agenda that both Democrats and Republicans can, and have, supported. But rather than work with us on our plan to revitalize American industry and create well-paying, middle-class manufacturing jobs, Republicans have focused on passing bills that support their partisan agenda rather than actually helping create jobs and grow the economy.
