The Daily Quote

"Transportation projects — especially highway projects — have been one of the great success stories of the Recovery Act. The Federal Highway Administration has approved 7,965 projects worth just more than $19.2 billion — 72% of all available highway recovery funds — in the seven months since President Obama signed the act into law."

- Secretary of Transportation Ray LaHood, U.S.A. Today, 9/30/2009
